Biljana Gjoneska, MD, is a researcher at the Macedonian Academy of Sciences and Arts and a PhD student at "La Sapienza" University of Rome. In addition to being a young scientist she strives to undertake the role of a young physician leader by active participation in six international (EU FP6/FP7/ESF funded) and one national project. Dr. Gjoneska is involved in all stages of project planning and execution by embracing various roles, with special emphasis on the role of a National Committee Member in one EU/ESF COST Action. As such, she was responsible for the management, coordination and promotion of the highly interdisciplinary area of cognitive neuroscience through fruitful collaboration with young enthusiastic, as well as experienced professionals. The aforementioned pillars of her academic achievement provided optimal conditions for development of scientific potential and resulted in 18 scientific publications (13 as first author).
